2. INTRODUCTION

- 2.1. This document describes the procedure to be followed where an allegation is made that a Trust Person has physically, emotionally or sexually abused a pupil of the Trust.
- 2.2. The Trust recognises that any allegation of abuse is serious and this procedure should be invoked without delay whilst ensuring that it is dealt with in a sensitive, efficient manner since all parties involved may be very distressed. The allegation should not be discussed within the earshot of a pupil or with any member of staff not directly involved in dealing with the allegation or referred to in it.
- 2.3. No pupil making or thought to be about to make a disclosure of abuse by a Trust Person may be assured of absolute confidentiality since the law may require details of an allegation to be passed to others irrespective of the wishes of the complainant.
- 2.4. The Department for Education’s statutory guidance for schools on Keeping Children Safe in Education (the “Statutory Guidance”) should be referred to in any cases where a person is alleged to have:

- Behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child;
- Possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child; or
- Behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicated he or she would pose a risk of harm if they worked regularly or closely with children;
- Behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates he or she may not be suitable to work with children.

The most recent draft of Statutory Guidance is available here: https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/550511/Keeping_children_safe_in_education.pdf

- 2.5. This policy relates to any current Trust Persons, regardless of the establishment where the alleged abuse took place. Any allegations against a Trust Person who is no longer engaged at the Trust will be referred to the Police. Historical allegations of abuse will also be referred to the police.

3. DESIGNATED SAFEGUARDING LEAD

The Principal will designate a member of staff to act as the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) in its school.

4. RECEIVING AN ALLEGATION

- 4.1. Any allegation of abuse of a pupil by a Trust Person should be reported to the relevant Principal.
- 4.2. The person to whom the allegation was made should inform the Principal of the allegation without delay and should not discuss the allegation with the alleged abuser prior to reporting the matter to the Principal.
- 4.3. The Principal will take steps, where necessary to secure the immediate safety of pupils and any urgent medical needs.
- 4.4. The Principal should make a written record of what has been reported by completing an Abuse Allegation Form (see Annex A). Where possible, the form should be signed by the pupil or the person to whom the allegation was first made.
- 4.5. In the event of the allegation being made against the Principal, the person to whom the allegation was made should inform the Chair of Local Governing Body (LGB) directly of the allegation. The Chair of the Board will inform the Executive Principal, who will decide who should be appointed as Investigating Officer.
- 4.6. If it is not possible to report to the Principal or Chair of the LGB, a report should be made immediately to the Executive Principal, or the Executive Trust Lead for Safeguarding. If none of these are available, it should be reported to the school DSL.

5. INITIAL ACTION

- 5.1. The Trust will follow the Local Safeguarding Partners' Procedure for Dealing with Allegations against a Trust Person.

- 5.2. The Principal will immediately notify the LADO and take advice considering the nature, content and context of the allegation and agree a course of action.
- 5.3. The Principal may appoint an Investigating Officer. The Investigating Officer, in consultation with the Principal, and following advice from the LADO and/or our HR Advisors, should undertake any initial enquiries that may be necessary in order to decide whether or not to refer the matter to the relevant Children's Services Department or to the Police. No pupil may be physically examined. Trust Persons or pupils may be invited, but not required, to write an account of their direct experience in relation to the allegation.
- 5.4. The Investigating Officer may seek advice from appropriate agencies, including the relevant Children's Services Department, the Department for Children, Schools and Families, HR and the Police.
- 5.5. The Principal will inform the Chair of the relevant LGB of any allegation.
- 5.6. The Investigating Officer and Principal will have regard to the most recent Department for Education's Statutory Guidance.
- 5.7. If after the initial sharing of information and evaluation, a decision is taken that no further action will be taken in regard to the individual facing the allegation or concern, the decision and a justification for it should be recorded by both the LADO and the Principal.
- 5.8. The Principal should inform the accused person about the allegation as soon as possible after consulting with the LADO and HR. However, where a strategy discussion is required, or Police or Children's Services need to be involved, the Principal should not do that until those agencies have been consulted and have agreed what information should be disclosed.

6. REFERRAL

- 6.1. Where the LADO or Principal decides to refer the matter to the relevant Children's Services Department for the school in which the issue arises on grounds of child protection and/or to the Police on grounds of a suspected criminal offence, the referral/s should be made without delay. From this point no further enquiries into the allegation should be made by Trust Persons unless and until the Children's Services Department and/or the Police indicate in writing that they do not intend to proceed further.
- 6.2. The Principal should discuss with the relevant officer of the Children's Services Department and/or Police what may and may not be said to the pupil, their parents or carers, the alleged abuser and to the informants.
- 6.3. The Principal should inform the Chair of the Board that an allegation relating to a member of staff has been made and referred to an external agency. The Principal should not describe the nature or details of the allegation to the Chair of the Board at this stage.
- 6.4. The Principal should prepare a statement to be used in response to queries by Trust parents and the media, following the Trust's Media Protocols. This should be approved by the Executive Principal. The statement should indicate that:
 - i The matter is governed by procedures which the Principal is obliged to follow;
 - ii The matter is in the hands of the appropriate agencies and no further comment can be made;
 - iii No names can be given for public use.

- 6.5. When inter-agency meetings take place, it is essential that the DSL, Investigating Officer or an alternative nominee attends.

When the external agencies have completed their procedures, the Principal may decide that an internal investigation should be carried out to establish whether or not the Trust's Disciplinary policy should be invoked. In this case, any further investigations conducted by the Trust shall follow those set out in the Disciplinary Policy.

7. NON-REFERRAL

- 7.1. If the Principal is satisfied that no child is at risk of significant harm or that a reportable criminal offence has not been committed, the allegation need not be referred either to the Local Authority or to the Police. In this case an internal investigation may be carried out by invoking the Staff Disciplinary Procedure.
- 7.2. The Principal/Investigating Officer will make detailed written records including his/her decisions, and the reasons for these.

8. OUTCOME

- 8.1. The following definitions should be used when determining the outcome of allegation investigations:
- Substantiated: there is sufficient evidence to prove the allegation;
 - Malicious: there is sufficient evidence to disprove the allegation and there has been a deliberate act to deceive;
 - False: there is sufficient evidence to disprove the allegation;
 - Unsubstantiated: there is insufficient evidence to either prove or disprove the allegation. The term, therefore, does not imply guilt or innocence.
 - Unfounded: to reflect cases where there is no evidence or proper basis which supports the allegation being made.
- 8.2. The Principal/Investigating Officer will make detailed written records including his/her decisions, and the reasons for these.
- 8.3. If the allegation is substantiated and the member of staff is dismissed or if they resign, the Principal should discuss the case with the LADO to decide whether to make a referral to the DBS to consider whether inclusion on the Barred List is required and/or to the Teaching Regulation Agency to consider prohibition from teaching.
- 8.4. There is a legal requirement for employers to make a prompt referral to the DBS where they think that an individual has engaged in conduct that has harmed or is likely to harm a child, or if a person otherwise poses a risk of harm to a child.
- 8.5. If the accused person resigns or ceases to provide his/her services to the Trust, this should not prevent an allegation being followed up and a referral to the DBS must be made if the criteria in paragraph 2.4 are met.

9. MALICIOUS ACCUSATION

- 9.1. If the accusation is found to be entirely groundless and is judged by the Investigating Officer to have been made with malicious intent, the Investigating

Officer may advise the Principal to take disciplinary action against the pupil or pupils responsible provided this is proportionate to the gravity of the offence and intent. This will follow the Trust's Behaviour policy.

- 9.2. Details of malicious allegations should be removed from personnel records for the subject of the allegation.

10. SUSPENSION OF STAFF

- 10.1. Suspension need not follow an allegation automatically but it may be an appropriate step at any stage, depending on the information available. Such a suspension would not constitute a disciplinary action.
- 10.2. A decision to suspend a member of staff may only be taken by the Principal or member of the Executive or in his or her absence the member of staff with delegated authority following consultation with external agencies where a referral has been made to them. Factors such as the seriousness of the allegation, the perceived risk to children, the existence or otherwise of previous complaints and the possible jeopardising of the conduct of any investigation should be taken into consideration.
- 10.3. Any member of staff who is suspended should be advised to contact their teacher association, trade union or other professional body for advice and representation.
- 10.4. A suspension risk assessment should be completed (see Annex B).
- 10.5. The Principal should appoint a named representative to keep the member of staff informed of the progress of the case.
- 10.6. Where it is decided that a person who has been suspended can return to work, the Principal should consider how best to facilitate this. Support is likely to be needed for the member of staff after a stressful experience.

11. DEALING WITH ALLEGATIONS AGAINST AGENCY OR SUPPLY STAFF

- 11.1. Schools may have to consider an allegation against an agency/supply worker provided by an employment agency. Whilst the individual is not directly employed by the school, they are under the supervision, direction and control of the Principal when working in the school and a fair and transparent process must occur. The agency/supply worker will be treated the same as an employee and schools will not cease to use an agency/supply worker due to safeguarding concerns without conducting an appropriate investigation and consulting the HR director.
- 11.2. The school will liaise with both the agency and the LADO as necessary prior to conducting a thorough investigation in line with best practice. During any investigation, the agency/supply worker will be afforded the right to be accompanied by their Union representative or a representative from their employment agency. Principals should discuss with the agency whether it is appropriate to suspend the agency/supply worker, or redeploy them to another part of the school, whilst they carry out their investigation.

- 11.3. Following investigation, the school, employment agency and LADO will liaise to determine a suitable outcome and agree further steps in line with statutory guidance as necessary.

12. RECORD KEEPING

- 12.1. The Investigating Officer will make detailed written records including his/her decisions, any action taken and the reasons for these. All records will be retained securely and subject to the Data Protection policy.
- 12.2. The Principal's PA is responsible for keeping and securely storing records in relation to any allegations except where the allegation relates to the DSL in which case the Principal has this responsibility, or where the allegation relates to the Principal, in which case the Clerk to the Board has this responsibility. Where a person makes an oral statement, a written transcript or summary should be signed and dated by the person making the statement.
- 12.3. The Principal or Investigating Officer should record the process followed in handling the allegation.
- 12.4. With the exception of allegations found to be malicious, a clear and comprehensive summary of the allegation, details of how the allegation was followed up and resolved, and a note of any action taken and decisions reached should be kept on the confidential personnel file for the member of staff accused, and a copy should also be provided to that person.
- 12.5. Schools have an obligation to preserve records which contain information about allegations of sexual abuse for the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse (IICSA) for the term of the inquiry (see <https://www.iicsa.org.uk/> for further information).
- 12.6. All other records should be retained at least until the accused has reached normal pension age, or for a period of 10 years from the date of the allegation if that is longer.

13. SUPPORTING THOSE INVOLVED

- 13.1. The Trust will deal with any allegation of abuse made against a Trust Person in a quick, fair and consistent way to minimise the stress inherent in the allegations process and provide effective protection for the child and support the person against whom the allegation is made.
- 13.2. We recognise that other staff may find the situation stressful and upsetting. We will support such staff by providing an opportunity to talk with their trade union or to seek further support as appropriate.
- 13.3. Parents or carers of a child or children involved should be told about the allegation as soon as possible if they do not already know of it. Where other agencies or the police are involved, these should be consulted first and it should be agreed with these agencies the information that can be disclosed.

14. CONFIDENTIALITY

The Trust will make every effort to maintain confidentiality and guard against unwanted publicity while an allegation is being investigated or considered.

Managing Allegations of Misconduct

Considerations for the Suspension of an Employee

Suspending an employee may be an appropriate course of action to take if allegations against the employee involve gross misconduct where, if they were upheld at a disciplinary hearing, the employer would be entitled to dismiss the employee without notice. However, suspending an employee is a serious step to take and without due consideration it can amount to a breach of trust and confidence by the employer, entitling an employee to claim constructive dismissal. Therefore, thought needs to be given as to whether it can be avoided and an employee should only be suspended if it is reasonable to do so in the circumstances.

Careful consideration should be given to the facts, the seriousness of the allegation and any alternatives available, before suspending an employee. Suspension must not be a 'knee-jerk' reaction to an allegation and should not imply any assumption that the individual is guilty of any misconduct. Suspension does not constitute disciplinary action and, for employees, will be on full pay. A period of suspension should be kept under review and be as short as possible, while allowing the employer to carry out a reasonable investigation. If suspension is deemed appropriate, the reasons and justification should be recorded by the school and the individual notified in writing of the reasons.

Allegations of Abuse made Against Employees

If the allegation is one of abuse against an employee, in accordance with the statutory guidance Keeping Children Safe in Education Part four: Allegations of abuse made against teachers and other staff, an individual should only be suspended if there is no reasonable alternative. When managing such allegations you must have regard to the statutory guidance.

The statutory guidance relates to all adults working with children and young people, whether in a paid or voluntary position. It should be used in respect of all cases in which it is alleged that a teacher or member of staff (including supply staff and volunteers) in a school or college that provides education for children under 18 years of age has:

- Behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child;
- Possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child; or
- Behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she would pose a risk of harm to children.

When managing any allegation of misconduct against an employee, you must have regard to the disciplinary procedure, any relevant code of conduct and allegation management procedure adopted by the school.

If a decision is taken to suspend an individual, then at the point of their suspension, they should be informed of who their named contact is within the school and provided with their contact details. Consider whether the employee should be escorted from the workplace, whether IT access and access to the workplace should be removed, and ensure the employee understands that communication with workplace colleagues is prohibited during the period of suspension. The support that will be available for the individual must also be considered, and they should be advised to contact their trade union representative if they have one. Where possible, the suspension and the reasons for suspension should be kept confidential. If necessary, discuss with the employee how they would like their absence to be explained to colleagues and the school community. A decision to suspend should be communicated in writing as soon as practicable. For advice on suspension and for a suspension letter please contact your HR Adviser.

The following assessment will assist the relevant parties, both in making a decision regarding suspension, and keeping a record of that decision. The assessment should take account of the context of the allegation, background information in relation to the individual concerned and in cases concerning allegations of abuse, any strategy discussion outcomes. A copy of the assessment should be retained on file by the school.
